Dear Coffman Enterprises, Inc,

Together, we are improving the lives of people living with type 1 diabetes and steadily driving research toward a cure. Your investment in JDRF provides critical funding for diabetes researchers – and hope for the millions of people living with the disease. Thank you for your recent gift of $1,615 on April 12, 2011 to the Inland Empire Chapter through your Caddy for the Hole third party event and for your commitment to a future without diabetes. In these challenging economic times, it is particularly appreciated.

Last year, supporters like you helped fund nearly $101 million in promising research, including a study to develop “glucose-responsive insulin” or “SmartInsulin.” The insulin works only in response to glucose and would need to be taken just once a day, staying safely in a person’s body until it is needed. If it is successfully developed, this remarkable product would mark a watershed in the management of type 1 diabetes. Your investment in JDRF will continue funding this and so many other important projects.

For more information about JDRF funding and recent research progress, please visit our website at www.jdrf.org. On the site, you can read our latest announcements and sign up for one of our e-newsletters. Also, please feel free to contact me directly at 951-784-4156.

Again, thank you for your partnership with JDRF. Together, we will make life better for those living with type 1 diabetes – and find a cure that frees them of the disease forever.

Thank you for your generosity, and your passion to find a cure.

Sincerely,
